The new Venue range of general purpose cases from 5 Star sees a slight departure for the company in terms of case manufacture, in that the main material used is a lightweight honeycombed polypropylene. This offers significant weight savings over traditional plywood carcass constructed cases, and will be suitable for small to medium sized applications of all types.

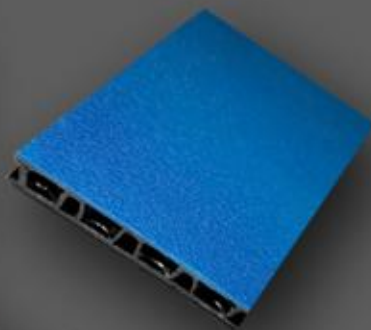

A 'nest' of four general purpose carry cases is available, utilising classic 'Russian Doll' methodology, whereby sets of cases in decreasing sizes are placed one inside the other for neat storage when not in use.

Other than the polypropylene panels, the case is furnished with the usual flight case type hardware including butterfly catches, recessed handles and aluminium extrusions. They are available in a range of four standard colours. Internally the cases are lined with polyethylene foam.
